III. READING

Part 1: Read the text about booking a flight and put the following sentences in the correct order. There is one sentence that you don't need to use. Write the letters A, B, C, ... next to the numbers. Number 1 has been done for you as an example.

When you want to book a flight to a certain place, visit your nearest travel agent. Tell the travel agent the date when you want to travel and the destination to which you want to go. The travel agent will then type the information into a small computer. After checking everything on the computer screen, he/she will send the information to a central computer. The central computer contains all information about bookings and destinations, and sends a reply, showing which are the most suitable flights. It also shows whether the flights are fully booked or not. The information which is now shown on the small computer screen is continually changing as other bookings are made in other parts of the world.

The travel agent now types in your booking, then the computer will ask for your name and address as well as for certain other information. It will also ask how you will pay for your ticket (by cheque or by credit card). Next the computer confirms the booking and makes a request for payment. When you have paid for your ticket, the travel agent types the information into the computer as well. Finally, some computers print out a ticket before you leave the travel agent's.

- Details about the flights and seats available are sent back.
- The computer then wants information about the method of payment.
- The tickets are issued either at that time or later.
- The computer asks for personal details.
- Make your request to the travel agent and give him/her all the details.
- Your request is then checked and sent to the main computer.
- Go to a travel agent.
- The computer asks for payment.
- The computer asks for the flight number.
- The travel agent fills your initial request into a small computer.
- The booking is typed into the small computer.

L. The booking is confirmed.
