It is natural for young people to be critical of their parents at times and to blame them for most of the misunderstandings between them. They have always complained, more or less justly, that their parents are old-fashioned, possessive and dominant; (18)_____ ; that they talk too much about certain problems and that they have no sense of humor, at least in parent-child relationships. I think it is true that parents often underestimate (19)_____ and also forget how they themselves felt (20)_____.

Young people often irritate their parents with their choices in clothes and hairstyles, in entertainers and music. This is not their motive. They feel cut off from the adult world into which they have not yet been accepted. So they create a culture and society of their own. Then, if it turns out that their music or entertainers or vocabulary or clothes or (21)_____, this gives them additional enjoyment. They feel they are superior, at least in a small way, and that they are leaders in style and taste.

If you plan (22)_____, co-operation can be part of that plan. You can charm others, especially parents, into doing things the ways you want, and (23)_____ with your sense of responsibility and initiative, so that they will give you the authority to do what you want to do.

Read the following passage and mark the letter A, B, C, or D to indicate the correct answer to each of the questions from 24 to 28.

Comparing society 40 years back to activities and happenings of today, I appreciate that family values have changed over time. In our world today, a lot of vices are holding sway and these vices are quickly displacing virtues because we have compromised family values.

Today children are growing up in a society that is technologically driven and are learning at a much faster pace than in the 70s. The fast pace of learning has kept parents lagging in getting a hold of their kid's moral values and helping them understand what family values used to be.

Family values have changed over time from my perspective, seeing all that is happening in our world today. To better appraise this conclusion let us understand the definition of family values. Family values are traditional values that are passed on from generation to generation within the family that address the family roles, family structure, function, attitude, and ideas. These traditional values are like unwritten codes that guide the actions of individuals. They help people decide what is right or wrong.

The family is a powerful institution with tremendous influence on society, and when these family values become promoted by parents within the family, society will feel the effect.

Question 24. What is the main topic of the passage?

- A. Family Values have changed over time. B. Traditional values have lost.
 C. Family values in modern society become better. D. What are traditional family values?

Question 25. The second paragraph is mainly about _____.

- A. the importance of technology B. the fast pace of modern life
 C. the fast pace of life in the 70s D. the impact of the fast pace of learning

Question 26. The word "driven" in the second paragraph is closest in meaning to _____

- A. oriented B. turned C. transported D. controlled

Question 27. The word "codes" in the third paragraph can be best replaced with _____

- A. laws B. manners C. etiquettes D. habits

Question 28. Which of the following statements is true according to the third and the fourth paragraphs?

- A. Family values are any values that are passed on from generation to generation.
 B. Family values can be passed outside the family as long as they address the family roles, family structure, function, attitude, and ideas,
 C. Traditional family values guide the actions of individuals which help them decide what is right or wrong.
 D. The society won't be affected if family values become promoted by parents within the family.

Read the following passage and mark the letter A, B, C, or D to indicate the correct answer to each of the questions from 34 to 40.

Except for a few unfortunate individuals, no law in this world can go against the fact that for most of us our family is an essential part of our lives. The moment you enter this cruel world, where each man is for himself, there are some near and dear ones out there who will do anything to ensure your happiness.

We are nothing more than a vulnerable and fragile object, without someone taking care of us on our arrival in this world. Despite all the odds, your family will take care of your well-being, and try their best to provide you the greatest comforts in the world. No one out there, except your family must forgive the endless number of mistakes you may make in your life. Apart from teaching you forgive and forget lessons, they are always there for you, when you need them the most.

Family is the only place where children study a lot after school. In school, teachers teach children about the subjects which will help them to find a good job in future. But at home, parents teach children about good habits. They are not only the elements which help the children to shape their personalities but they also prepare them a sustainable and bright future.

A good family makes a greater society. Father, mother, children have to work in order to build a strong family. If any one of them fail, the whole family may collapse. The good name of the whole family can be ruined by a single member of the family. In order to avoid that unhappy scenario, every family member has to work hard and try their best. As a result, they will set good examples for the whole society. Families impacts very much on society and societies create countries.
