PART THREE: READING

I. Read the passage below and choose the correct answer for each question.

Write your answers A, B, C or D on your answer sheet. (5 pts)

Petroleum products, such as gasoline, kerosine, home heating oil, residual fuel oil, and lubricating oils, come from one source-crude oil found below the earth's surface, as well as under large bodies of water, from a few hundred feet below the surface to as deep as 25,000 feet into the earth's interior. Sometimes crude oil is secured by drilling a hole through the earth, but more dry holes are drilled than those producing oil. Pressure at the source or pumping forces crude oil to the surface.

Crude oil wells flow at varying rates, from ten to thousands of barrels per hour. Petroleum products are always measured in forty-two-gallon barrels.

Petroleum products vary greatly in physical appearance: thin, thick, transparent or opaque, but regardless, their chemical composition is made up of only two elements: carbon and hydrogen, which form compounds called hydrocarbons. Other chemical elements found in union with the hydrocarbons are few and are classified as impurities. Trace elements are also found, but these are of such minute quantities that they are disregarded. The combination of carbon and hydrogen forms many thousands of compounds which are possible because of the various positions and joinings of these two atoms in the hydrocarbon molecule.

The various petroleum products are refined from the crude oil by heating and condensing the vapors. These products are the so-called light oils, such as gasoline, kerosine, and distillate oil. The residue remaining after the light oils are distilled is known as heavy or residual fuel oil and is used mostly for burning under boilers. Additional complicated refining processes rearrange the chemical structure of the hydrocarbons to produce other products, some of which are used to upgrade and increase the octane rating of various types of gasolines.

1. All of the following are true EXCEPT

- A. crude oil is found below land and water
- B. crude oil is always found a few hundred feet below the surface
- C. pumping and pressure force crude oil to the surface
- D. a variety of petroleum products is obtained from crude oil

2. The word "minute" in line 10 is closest in meaning to _____.

- A. instant
- B. huge
- C. insignificant
- D. timely

3. Many thousands of hydrocarbon compounds are possible because _____.

- A. the petroleum products vary greatly in physical appearance
- B. complicated refining processes rearrange the chemical structure
- C. the two atoms in the molecule assume many positions
- D. the pressure needed to force it to the surface causes molecular transformation

4. How is crude oil brought to the surface?

- A. expansion of the hydrocarbons
- B. pressure and pumping
- C. vacuum created in the drilling pipe
- D. expansion and contraction of the earth's surface

5. Which of the following is TRUE?

- A. Heating and condensation produce the various products.
- B. The various petroleum products are produced by filtration.
- C. Chemical separation is used to produce the various products.
- D. Mechanical means such as the centrifuge are used to produce the various products.

II. Read the following passage carefully and fill each numbered blank with ONE suitable word.

Write your answers on your answer sheet. (10 pts)

Population growth affects almost (1) _____ aspect of everyday life. This is (2) _____ a continual growth in the earth's population forces us to change the ways we use the land. For example, an expanding population needs more land (3) _____ housing, shops and industry. An expanding population also means that we need to grow (4) _____ food and build more hospitals, schools and roads. But the area of land available for human use is fixed. In fact, only about one third of the earth's surface is land, and (5) _____ one third of that is suitable to live on. For example, there are large areas of the earth (6) _____ as deserts and polar icecaps that cannot at present support human life. Of course there are low population densities in some parts of the world, (7) _____ in most cases the land resources in such areas are already stretched (8) _____ the limit. One immediate answer to our population growth is to (9) _____ deserts and swamplands habitable. But the long-term (10) _____ is to stabilize the earth's population.

III. Read the passage below and choose the correct word to complete each numbered blank.

Write your answers A, B, C or D on your answer sheet. (5 pts)

A POWERFUL INFLUENCE

There can be no (1) _____ at all that the Internet has made a huge difference to our lives. Parents are worried that children spend too much time playing on the Internet, hardly (2) _____ doing anything else in their spare time. Naturally, parents are (3) _____ to find out why the Internet is so attractive, and they want to know if it can be harmful for their children. Should parents worry if their children are spending that much time (4) _____ their computers?

Obviously, if children are bent over their computers for hours, (5) _____ in some game, instead of doing their homework, then something is wrong. Parents and children could decide how much use the child should (6) _____ of the Internet, and the child should give his or her (7) _____ that it won't interfere with homework. If the child is not (8) _____ to this arrangement, the parents can take more drastic (9) _____. Dealing with a child's use of the Internet is not much different from (10) _____ any other sort of bargain about behavior.
