Mark the letter A, B, C or D on your answer sheet to indicate the best arrangement of utterances or sentences to make a meaningful exchange or text in each of the following questions from 13 to 17.

- Question 13: a. Preet: Absolutely! I think it's essential, especially with how fast technology changes. If you stop learning, it feels like you get left behind so quickly.
  - b. Emma: That's true. And it's not just about keeping up with work or technology—lifelong learning can be about personal growth, too. Picking up hobbies, exploring new cultures, or even just reading for pleasure can all make life richer.
  - c. Emma: I've been reading a lot about lifelong learning lately. It's interesting how people can keep learning new skills and adapting, no matter their age.

- Question 14: a. Flora: I've been thinking about taking my dog to the vet for a check-up. It's been a while since his last visit.
  - b. Mia: It could be allergies, or maybe even fleas. The vet will probably do a quick exam and recommend some treatment. Better to get it checked sooner rather than later.
  - c. Flora: He seems fine, but I noticed he's been scratching a lot. I'm worried it might be allergies or something worse.
  - d. Flora: You're right. It's amazing how much vets can tell just by observing pets closely. I'll make an appointment this week to keep him healthy and happy.
  - e. Mia: That's a good idea. Regular check-ups are important to catch any issues early. How's he been doing lately?

Question 15: Dear Timothy,

I hope this email finds you well. I wanted to reach out and talk about our shared interest in Artificial Intelligence (AI) since it's such a fascinating and relevant topic for our studies.

- a. Have you come across any interesting resources or case studies on this?
- b. The advancements are incredible, but they also raise questions about ethics and how we balance AI's benefits with potential risks.
- c. For instance, I've been trying to better understand machine learning algorithms, but some concepts are still a bit confusing. Maybe we could work through them together?
- d. I also thought it would be great if we could share notes or discuss specific areas of AI that we find challenging.
- e. Recently, I've been exploring how AI impacts different industries, especially healthcare and education.

Let me know your thoughts, and if you're interested, we could even set up a time to brainstorm or study together. I think it would really help both of us deepen our understanding of AI. Looking forward to hearing from you!

Best regards,

Teenage relationships are an essential part of adolescent development, (18)______. These early experiences are influenced by evolutionary drives for connection and acceptance, as noted by child psychologist Dr. Seoka Salstrom. Teens, particularly sensitive to how others perceive them,

(19) . This sensitivity, combined with their lack of life experience and developing brain functions, contributes to their all-or-nothing approach to relationships.

Parents play a crucial role in guiding their teens through these formative experiences. Family therapist Dr. Catherine Pearlman advises parents to listen and validate their teens' feelings rather than dismiss or belittle them. (20) and discussing mutual respect and relationship goals can provide supportive frameworks for teens to navigate their emotions.

It's important for parents to acknowledge the significance of their teen's first love, recognizing its emotional weight without undermining it. (21) , they create lasting, magical memories that are part of a teen's learning process about the different kinds of love they will encounter. Ultimately, helping teens understand that they should not seek external validation through their relationships is key. Encouraging them to find self-worth from within (22) . By supporting their teens in this way, parents can help them build a solid foundation for future relationships.

Read the following passage about coffee and mark the letter A, B, C or D on your answer sheet to indicate the best answer to each of the following questions from 23 to 30.

Multimedia is a field that integrates various forms of content such as audio, images, video, text, and graphics to create comprehensive communication tools. Unlike graphic design, which focuses on visual content alone, it encompasses a wider range of creative methods, including interactive web design, video production, and game design. This integration of different media forms enables the creation of dynamic and engaging user experiences.

A career in multimedia requires proficiency in various software tools and web development languages. Software like Adobe Premiere, Audition, and Flash are essential for video and audio production, while knowledge of HTML, CSS, and JavaScript is crucial for web design and development. These technical skills allow multimedia professionals to create interactive and visually appealing content across different platforms.

In addition to technical skills, a successful multimedia professional needs a strong aesthetic sense and sensitivity to artistic expression. These attributes help in creating content that is not only functional but also visually appealing and engaging. Understanding the target audience and the purpose of the content is crucial in multimedia design, as it influences the choice of media and the way it is integrated.

The demand for multimedia professionals is growing as more industries recognize the importance of engaging and interactive content. From advertising to education, multimedia plays a crucial role in communicating messages effectively. This makes multimedia a promising field with diverse career opportunities for those with the right skills and creativity.

A meme is a cultural element that spreads rapidly among people, primarily through the internet. It often takes the form of an image, video, or piece of text that conveys a humorous or satirical message. Memes are a modern form of folk art, evolving quickly and often reflecting current events or popular culture.  The term "meme" was introduced by Richard Dawkins in his 1976 book "The Selfish Gene."
