V. Read the following passage and mark the letter A, B, C, or D to indicate the correct answer to each of the questions

There are several things of spoken English that make it difficult for me to understand. First, many words aren't pronounced as they are spelled, so when I learn new words through reading, I sometimes do not understand them when they are spoken. Second, native speakers have a wide range of accents. A British accent is different from a Texas one. Third, there're a lot of idioms and slang expressions. These expressions also differ depending on the area a speaker is from. Finally, there are sounds that do not exist in my native language. These sounds are difficult for me to distinguish.
