John: Well, I go to the gym every day. I'm really into it. How about you? Do you often work out?

2.

Woman: Do you play a lot of sports?

Alex: Of course, I do.

Woman: Do you like to play volleyball?

Alex: Yeah I play it every other day.

Woman: Want to play with my friends and me this afternoon?

Alex: OK. See you at 5 PM.

3.

Woman: You're in good shape, Dave? Do you play a lot of sports?

Dave: I love sports. I often play football when I have free time.

Woman: Do you often watch football matches?

Dave: Yeah I don't miss any matches of Liverpool.

4.

Woman: Do you like playing sports?

Man: Not really. But when I have free time I often go swimming at the FOX club.

Woman: You should do it more often. Swimming is good for your health.

5.

Woman: What kind of sports do you play?

Man: Well, I'm not keen on sports. I enjoy reading books and magazines.

Woman: You should do more sports. You're not in good shape now!

Part 2:

Woman: Hello and welcome to wildlife. Today's program is about animals and what they can do. Okay, let's start with the big animal. Is it true that all elephants can hear long distances with their ears and their feet?

Man: Yes, it is. They can hear other elephants by feeling sounds in the ground with their feet.

Woman: Wow, that's amazing. Here's another big animal. That's the sound of gorilla animals which can grow to around 250 kilos. They're big, strong and intelligent and that helps them survive.

Man: Yes, but small animals can also survive. Look! I've got one here.

Woman: Ohhh... I don't like scorpions. Tell me can they kill people?

Man: Some of them can, and this one can.

Woman: But it's very small.

Man: Yes, some of the smallest ones are the most dangerous.

Woman: Oh... I prefer this animal.

Man: What's that?

Woman: A camel. Camels have got very different skills. They don't drink a lot. They can survive 6 months without water.

Man: Okay, now it's my turn. Eagles can see small animals from a distance of one kilometer. Ostriches can't fly but they're the tallest heaviest and fastest birds. They can run more than 60 kilometers an hour.

Woman: That is amazing. So, what can humans do?

Man: We can communicate.

Woman: But a lot of animals communicate. Listen. Whales. Monkeys.

Man: Yes, but we can speak and I think that is our most important skill.

Woman: Okay, now let's speak....

Part 3

I would like to talk about my first trip I visited Ho Chi Minh city last summer. I travelled by bus to East Bus Station and then my aunt picked me up by her motorbike. I stayed at her house for 2 days. She took me to the Ao Dai Museum and many other interesting places. We ate in a good restaurant, too. I really wanted to stay more, but I had to come back home for school.

Alex: OK. It's easy for you to get it.

Uyen: That's fine. Please remind me to buy some batteries for it when we go downtown.

Alex: Okay.

3.

Alex: These look like your car keys. Where do you usually keep them?

Uyen: They're my extra apartment keys. I often put them on one of the drawers in the desk.
