When you leave secondary school, you have different options, including going to a university or a vocational school, getting a job or taking a gap year. Sometimes choices may make you confused, so you should examine all your options before making any plans for the future. Below are some things you may like to try before making your decision.

If there are teachers you really love or look up to, you can ask them for some advice. Your teachers have been observing you for months, so they know your strengths, talents, and personality. You may share your dreams and concerns with them and ask them to give you an honest opinion about what option may be suitable for you.

If possible, you can talk to career advisers when you are still undecided about your future plans and ask for their advice. If you can't find a career adviser, you can take some career-matching tests online. They are typically created by career experts and psychologists, so they can help you make an informed decision.

Visiting a college or university campus is also important as it will make you think about if you can see yourself there or not. Usually, educational institutions have orientation days for secondary school students to experience university life first-hand. You could even contact the university.

So try following the above suggestions, and you will certainly make a more informed decision about your future plans.

Read the following passage about wildlife conservation and mark the letter A, B, C, or D on your answer sheet to indicate the best answer that best fits each of the following questions from 35 to 40.

Biodiversity on our planet is rapidly declining mainly due to human activities such as climate change and pollution. That is why governments and organisations have taken measures to protect wildlife and stop biodiversity loss. The emergence of artificial intelligence has dramatically changed wildlife protection. Conservationists are now turning to AI to find solutions to the rapid loss of plants and animals.

One of the biggest threats to endangered species is poaching for commercial purposes. Therefore, it is essential to stop this illegal activity in forests and nature reserves. However, rangers, whose job is to take care of such large areas, find it hard to monitor wildlife and prevent poaching. That is why many national parks are using AI cameras to track both animals and poachers. Furthermore, the cameras can send real-time updates to rangers’ phones and alert them to any illegal activities within minutes. The cutting-edge technology is even effective at night when poachers operate under cover of darkness. The AI cameras are designed to automatically notice any illegal cars or boats entering forests or other protected areas.

Another factor responsible for the decline in biodiversity is habitat loss. When natural habitats or environmental conditions change, it’s nearly impossible for scientists to identify the changes until they discover strong evidence. For example, some countries have faced increasing pressure from climate change and economic growth, and have lost a huge amount of surface water. However, the situation has only been discovered with the help of artificial intelligence. Without AI, scientists could not have identified and analysed the changes nationwide. AI has played an important role in collecting data and analysing the factors affecting wildlife, thus helping governments and organisations respond to critical situations in the quickest way possible.

Question 35: Which of the following can be the best title for the passage?

A. The causes of biodiversity loss

B. The benefits and drawbacks of AI

C. The rapid spread of AI in wildlife

D. The application of AI in wildlife conservation

Question 36: The word ‘emergence’ in paragraph 1 is closest in meaning to _____.

A. floating

C. attention

D. method

Question 37: Which of the benefits of using AI in wildlife conservation is NOT mentioned in paragraph 2?

- A. Tracking both animals and poachers. B. Counting endangered animals.
C. Alerting rangers to any illegal activities. D. Identifying moving objects in the areas.

Question 38: The word ‘monitor’ in paragraph 2 is OPPOSITE in meaning to _____.

- A. improve B. overtake C. control D. ignore

Question 39: The word ‘they’ in paragraph 3 refers to _____.

- A. changes B. natural habitats C. animals D. scientists

Question 40: Which of the following can be inferred from the passage?

- A. AI can provide all the solutions to the current issues.
B. Protecting the future of species depends on AI.
C. AI is an emerging technology in conservation that will be used a lot more in the future.
D. It’s impossible for scientists to conduct wildlife research without AI.
