LỜI NÓI ĐẦU

Cuốn sách Hướng dẫn ôn tập thi tuyển sinh vào lớp 10 Trung học phổ thông môn tiếng Anh được biên soạn dựa trên nền tảng kiến thức ngữ pháp, từ vựng, kỹ năng theo chương trình sách giáo khoa Tiếng Anh 9 của Bộ Giáo dục và Đào tạo, nhằm chuẩn bị tốt cho các em học sinh ôn thi vào lớp 10 Trung học phổ thông.

Cuốn sách gồm 30 đề luyện tập tổng hợp được cập nhật theo xu hướng cấu trúc đề thi vào lớp 10 Trung học phổ thông trên cả nước, theo định hướng phát triển năng lực học sinh với việc bao quát các kỹ năng nói, đọc, viết và sử dụng ngôn ngữ trong những tình huống giao tiếp thực tế hoặc thông qua hiểu biết xã hội, kiến thức học thuật. Nhóm biên soạn hi vọng cuốn sách này không chỉ hỗ trợ các thầy, cô giáo trong quá trình giảng dạy và ôn tập cho học sinh, mà còn là một tài liệu hữu ích giúp học sinh phát triển kỹ năng tự học.

Do thời gian biên soạn gấp rút, cuốn sách khó tránh khỏi những thiếu sót, chúng tôi mong nhận được những ý kiến đóng góp, phản hồi từ các chuyên gia, các thầy, cô giáo, các bậc phụ huynh cùng các em học sinh để tiếp tục hoàn thiện cuốn sách trong những lần in sau.

Chúc các em thành công trong học tập và thi đạt kết quả cao.

The search for alternative sources of energy has led in various directions. Many communities are burning garbage and other biological waste products to produce electricity. Converting waste products to gases or oil is also an efficient way to dispose of waste.

Experimental work is being done to derive synthetic fuels from coal, oil shale, and coal tars. But today, that process has proven expensive. Other experiments are underway to harness power with giant windmills. Geothermal power, heat from the earth, is also being tested.

Some experts expect electrical companies to revive hydroelectric power derived from streams and rivers. Fifty years ago hydroelectric power provided one-third of the electricity used in the United States, but to day it supplies only 4 percent. The oceans are another potential source of energy. Scientists are studying ways to convert the energy of ocean currents, tides, and waves to electricity. Experiments are also underway to make use of temperature differences in ocean water to produce energy.

Jeans are the most popular kind of clothing in the world. They are popular almost everywhere and with everybody. They are considered not just practical but very fashionable as well. But what do you know about the history of jeans?

Who made the first jeans?

In 1850 Levi Strauss, a young immigrant from Germany, arrived in San Francisco. He came to sell canvas, a heavy fabric used for tents, to gold miners. One day Strauss saw that the miners needed strong clothes for work. He quickly took some of his canvas and made it into pants. These pants were very strong and lasted a long time. The pants became very popular immediately. Later Strauss wanted to make his pants even better, so he started making his pants from cotton cloth that was softer than canvas but just as strong. This fabric came from Nimes, a city in France, and was called “denim” (from de Nimes). Denim was popular in the fifteenth century. Christopher Columbus used denim for the sails of his ships. Sailors in Genoa, Italy, wore denim pants. The word “jeans” comes from the word “Genoa”. Mr. Strauss made the first jeans in the United States, but their name and their kind of cloth came from Italy and France.

Environmental pollution is a term that refers to all the ways by which man pollutes his surroundings. Man dirties the air with gases and smokes, poisons the water with chemicals and other substances, and damages the soil with too many fertilizers and pesticides. Man also pollutes his surroundings in various other ways. For example, people ruin the natural beauty by scattering junk and litter on the land and in the water. They operate machines and motor vehicles that fill the air with disturbing noise.

Environmental pollution is one of the most serious problems facing mankind today. Air, water, and soil are necessary to the survival of all living things. Badly polluted air can cause illness, and even death. Polluted water kills fish and other marine life. Pollution of the soil reduces the amount of land that is available for growing food. Some people say that laughter is the best medicine. Scientists are beginning to agree with this. They are studying laughter seriously and are finding that it is really good for us.

So what happens when we laugh? We use 15 different muscles in our face, and laughing is good for every organ in our body. When we laugh, we breathe quickly and exercise the face, shoulders, and chest. Our blood pressure decreases, and our circulation gets better. Our heartbeat is lower, and our brain makes a natural painkiller called a beta-endorphin.

Every minute we laugh is the same as 45 minutes of relaxation. Many doctors around the world believe that laughter helps us get better when we are sick.

Of course, there are many kinds of laughter. We may laugh in different ways when we are in different situations. But we all have a laugh that is special to us.

33. What should be the best title of the passage?

Everybody around the world celebrates their birthdays. They have a birthday cake, gifts, and sometimes a birthday party. Friends and family gather around a table with a birthday cake on it. They sing “Happy birthday to you”. The birthday cake usually has lighted candles on it, once candle for each year of the child’s life. The birthday child makes a wish and then blows out all candles. If the child blows out the candle in one breath, it is often said the wish will come true. Birthday cakes around the world come in different sizes and flavors. There are even ice cream birthday cakes today.

Different countries have different customs. In some countries, some years are more vital than other. In Holland, these are 5, 10, 20 and 21. They call them “crown” years. On a crown birthday, the birthday child or young adult gets a much more important gift. The family also decorates the child’s chair at the dining table with flowers, paper, and balloon. The special years in Japan are 3, 5, and 7. These are the lucky years. On November 15 every year, there is a festival called “3-5-7” when the children and their families go to a religious place. Then the family gives a party for the child and gives the child gifts.

Tropical cyclones are called typhoons in Asia and hurricanes in North and South America. They have wind speeds of 60 kph or more. In the United States, the Tropical Prediction Center in Miami, Florida watches carefully for hurricanes.

When meteorologists discover a hurricane, they give it a name. They can use either a male or female name. Why should tropical cyclones have names? The name makes it easier for people to know about a hurricane and its possible dangers.

The World Meteorological Organization (WMO) decides what names will be used. The WMO lists names using the English alphabet. Each name starts with a different letter. The first hurricane of the year gets the first name on that year's list. The second hurricane gets the next name. For example, if the first hurricane is Abel, the second might be Betty. The name lists do not include names beginning with the letters Q, U, X, Y, and Z. There aren't many names beginning with these letters.

Asian countries use a different list, which is made up by the WMO's Typhoon Committee. This list has a few personal names, but most of the names are of flowers, animals, trees, and other similar things.

For a couple of years, Gilbert Bland was a unique figure in the world of antique map dealing. He made a 100% profit on every map he sold, not because he was a clever businessman, but because he was a thief. In the mid-1990s, Bland went around libraries in the USA, bringing a sharp razor and a baggy shirt, and sliced out those ancient maps which took his fancy. Some were worth tens of thousands of dollars, and he went on to sell them through both mail-order catalogues and his shop in Florida.

His crimes only came to light when a researcher in a Baltimore library noticed that a man appeared to be tearing a page from a 200-year-old book as if it were a newspaper. At first, it was assumed that this was an isolated case, and the library and the police were happy to let Bland off with a warning. Only later did they come across his notebooks, which contained details of all his thefts.

When writers attempt to anticipate the future, they often only succeed in providing an explanation of the present. This can be seen in the fantasies produced by science fiction writers in the middle of the twentieth century. Almost nothing has turned out the way that these writers expected. Although they managed to predict intelligent robots, they completely failed to anticipate the development in communications technology that would make them possible. This means that science fiction written before 1980 now seems quite dated. Science fiction writers, it seems, were remarkably slow on the uptake when it came to grasping the extent to which the nature of communication would change.

Instead, their focus was very much on rocket technology and space travel. For they were not to know that the lunar landings, so exciting at the time, would actually lead nowhere. There are no human colonies on the Moon, let alone on Mars, and the idea that people might eventually populate the cosmos seems even less within the possibility now than it did then, despite half a century of rapid technological progress. What's more, scientists have even begun to ridicule the notion, fundamental to much science fiction, that one day we just might encounter intelligent aliens.

31. What is the title of the passage?

In these days of genetic engineering, it is not unusual to hear the name Frankenstein raised by those who fear the consequences when humans seek to create a being in their own similarity.

Often unnoticed, however, is the fact that the tale originated, not as a folk legend, still less as a wildly original film script, but as a literary masterpiece. The lasting popularity of the novel and its modern-day relevance are all the more remarkable when we remember it was written almost 200 years ago, by an 18-year-old woman called Mary Shelley. Over the decades, numerous films have attempted to capture the full horror of her story, but none have come close to equaling the power of Mary Shelley's frightening style. Frankenstein has long been acknowledged as a powerful piece of Gothic fiction, representing as it does an extraordinary combination of contemporary philosophy, literary skill and imaginative vision. It is only recently, however, with increased media attention devoted to the philosophical issues her novel raises, that there has been a more general revival of interest in Mary herself.

Read the following passage and mark the letter A, B, C or D on your answer sheet to indicate the correct word or phrase that best fits each of the numbered blanks from 33 to 37.

My village is generally called Langde which consists of Upper Langde and Lower Langde. My own village is in Upper Langde, 32 km away from Kaili city and 17 km away from Leishan Country. My hometown is located at the foot of a scenic mountain with a murmuring crystal clear river in front. Groups of waterwheels by the river side produce beautiful folk songs day and night.

My father says that we have a festival every thirteen years and the festival runs for three consecutive years. People don't kill fattened pigs during the first and second years but only in the final year. So the most special year is the last one, namely the 13th year. As you can imagine, it is not easy to see many in one lifetime. I can't remember what the last one, 13 years ago, was like. Fortunately, my village held the festival from 22nd February to 2nd March 2009 and the one this year was a very spectacular one.

Read the following passage adapted and choose the correct answer (corresponding to A, B, C or D) to each of the questions that follow.

The first people to wear jeans were sailors in the 16th century. Sailors were gone for a long time. They had to do hard work outside in bad weather. Often their clothes had holes in them, got thinner or lost color. They needed something strong against wear and tear. Their clothes had to last longer and stay in good condition. They found this type of cloth during their trip to India. It was made of thick cotton and was called dungaree. It was dyed indigo. Indians use the indigo plant to color this type of cloth in factories. Sailors bought dungaree cloth in outside markets, cut it and wore it on their trips home.

The first jeans were made in Genoa. Genoa is a city in Italy. In the 16th century, Genoa was very powerful. Its sailors traveled all around the world. The Genoa city decided to make better pants for their sailors. They used the dungaree cloth because it was sturdy and strong. The new pants were called “geanos” or “jeanos”. Sailors could use it in both wet and dry weather. They could roll up the pants when cleaning the ship. To clean the pants, they put them inside a net, threw it in the ocean and dragged the net behind the ship. This is when they realized their color changes to white. Read the following passage adapted and choose the correct answer (corresponding to A, B, C or D) to each of the questions that follow.

Saving energy means saving money. Homeowners and renters know this basic fact, but they often don't know what kinds of adjustments they can make in their homes and apartments that will result in savings.

For those willing to spend some time and money to reap long-term energy savings, an energy audit is the way to go. An energy auditor will come into your home and assess its energy efficiency. The auditor will pinpoint areas of your home that use the most energy and offer solutions to lower your energy use and costs.

There are quicker and less costly measures that can be taken as well. One way to save money is to replace incandescent lights with fluorescents. This can result in a savings of more than 50% on your monthly lighting costs.

Windows provide another opportunity to cut your energy costs. Caulk old windows that might be leaky to prevent drafts, and choose double-paned windows if you're building an addition or replacing old windows.

Most areas of your home or apartment offer opportunities to save energy and money. The results are significant and are well worth the effort.

31. Which of the following best expresses the main idea of this passage?

- A. There are many things a homeowner or renter can do to save energy and money.
B. Hiring an energy auditor will save energy and money.

- C. Homeowners and renters don't know what they can do to save energy and money.

Read the following passage adapted and choose the correct answer (corresponding to A, B, C or D) to each of the questions that follow.

The invention of the electric telegraph gave birth to the communication industry. Although Samuel B. Morse succeeded in making the invention useful in 1837, it was not until 1843 that the first telegraph line of consequence was constructed. By 1860 more than 50,000 miles of lines connected people east of the Rockies. The following year, San Francisco was added to the network.

The national telegraph network fortified the ties between East and West and contributed to the rapid expansion of the railroads by providing an efficient means to monitor schedules and routes. Furthermore, the extension of the telegraph, combined with the invention of the steam – driven rotary printing press by Richard M. Hoe in 1846, revolutionized the world of journalism. Where the business of news gathering had been dependent upon the mail and on hand-operated presses, the telegraph expanded the amount of information. A newspaper could supply and allowed for more timely reporting. The establishment of the Associated Press as a central wire service in 1846 marked the advent of a new era in journalism.

Read the following passage and mark the letter A, B, C, D, on your answer sheet to indicate the correct answer to each of the questions.

Solar energy is a long lasting source of energy which can be used almost anywhere. To generate solar energy, we only need solar cells and the sun. Solar cells can easily be installed on house roofs, so no new space is needed and each user can quietly generate their own energy. Compared to other renewable sources, they also possess many advantages. Wind and water power rely on turbines which are noisy, expensive and easy to break down. Solar cells are totally silent and non-polluting. As they have no moving parts, they require little maintenance and have a long lifetime.

However, solar energy also has some disadvantages. We can only generate solar energy during daytime because the system depends on sunlight. Besides, solar cells require large area to work effectively. The main disadvantage of solar energy is that it costs about twice as much as traditional sources such as coal, oil, and gas. This is because solar cells are expensive. Scientists are hoping that the costs of solar cells will reduce as more and more people see the advantages of this environmentally friendly source of energy.

46. What does the passage primarily discuss?
- A. Advantages and disadvantages of solar energy.
 - B. The cost of solar energy.
 - C. Solar energy as an alternative for fossil fuels.
 - D. Solar energy's advantages over other sources of energy.

48. What is NOT mentioned as an advantage of solar cells?
- A. They operate quietly.
 - B. They require little maintenance.
 - C. They cost little to produce.
 - D. They are non-polluting.
49. Which of the following is the main disadvantage of solar energy mentioned in the passage?
- A. It is expensive.
 - B. Solar cells require large areas to operate.
 - C. It is unfriendly to the environment.

Read the following passage and mark the letter A, B, C, D, on your answer sheet to indicate the correct answer to each of the questions.

Tornadoes come from the energy released in a thunderstorm. As powerful as they are, tornadoes account for only a tiny fraction of the energy in a thunderstorm. What makes them dangerous is that their energy is concentrated in a small area, perhaps only a hundred yards across. Not all tornadoes are the same, of course, and science does not yet completely understand how part of a thunderstorm's energy sometimes gets focused into something as small as a tornado.

The damage from tornadoes comes from the strong winds they contain and the flying debris they create. It is generally believed that tornadic wind speeds can be as high as 300 mph in the most violent tornadoes. Wind speeds that high can cause automobiles to become airborne, rip ordinary homes to shreds, and turn broken glass and other debris into lethal missiles. The biggest threat to living creatures (including humans) from tornadoes is from flying debris and from being tossed about in the wind. It used to be believed that the low pressure in a tornado contributed to the damage by making buildings “explode” but this is no longer believed to be true.

46. What is the best title for the passage?
