Read the following passage about Green Lifestyle and mark the letter A, B, C or D on your answer sheet to indicate the option that best fits each of the numbered blanks from 18 to 22.

A green lifestyle is living in harmony with nature by making choices that benefit the environment, promote sustainability, and improve overall well-being. It begins with small, meaningful changes (18) _____.

Adopting practices like reducing waste, conserving energy, and choosing eco-friendly products can help minimize our ecological footprint.

One of the easiest ways to go green is by practicing the three R's: reduce, reuse, and recycle. Reducing consumption, especially of single-use plastics, (19) _____ can cut down on waste. Recycling ensures that valuable resources like paper, glass, and metal are repurposed instead of ending up in landfills.

Energy conservation is another cornerstone of sustainable living. Switching to renewable energy sources, using energy-efficient appliances, and simply turning off lights and electronic devices when not in use (20) _____. Similarly, sustainable transportation options, such as biking, walking or using public transport, further minimize the environmental impact.

A green lifestyle also includes mindful eating. Supporting local farmers, choosing organic produce, and reducing meat consumption can lessen the environmental impact of food production. Growing your own vegetables or herbs not only saves money but also reduces the carbon footprint associated with transporting goods.

(21) _____. Engaging in activities like planting trees, participating in clean-up drives, or educating others about sustainability can inspire collective action. By prioritizing eco-friendly habits, we contribute to a healthier planet for future generations while enhancing our own quality of life.

Every step, no matter how small, (22) _____.

Read the following passage about Whitney Houston and mark the letter A, B, C, or D on your answer sheet to indicate the best answer to each of the following questions from 23 to 30.

Whitney Houston was one of the world's most influential, successful, and popular singers. Her life and career were nothing short of extraordinary, marked by immense talent, groundbreaking success, and personal struggles that made her a figure both admired and deeply humanized in the eyes of the world.

Born on August 9, 1963, in Newark, New Jersey, Whitney Elizabeth Houston came from a family steeped in music. Her mother, Cissy Houston, was a renowned gospel singer, and her aunt, Dionne Warwick, was an iconic pop and soul performer. Due to such musical influences, Whitney's journey to fame appeared to be nearly inevitable.

Houston's big break came in 1985 when she signed with Arista Records and released her debut self-titled album. The album, which included hits like "How Will I Know" and "The Greatest Love of All," immediately catapulted her into the spotlight, showcasing her unmatched vocal ability. Her voice - a perfect blend of strength and sweetness - made her a sensation, and she quickly became one of the best-selling artists of the 1980s.

Beyond music, Houston's talents extended to acting. The Bodyguard (1992) marked her first major film role, where she starred alongside Kevin Costner. The film became a box-office success, and the soundtrack, featuring her iconic rendition of "I Will Always Love You," became one of the best-selling albums of all time. Houston later appeared in films like Waiting to Exhale (1995) and The Preacher's Wife (1996), but while she found success as an actress, her true legacy was in her music.

Her career, however, was also marked by personal struggles, including a turbulent marriage to singer Bobby Brown and battles with substance abuse, which overshadowed her later years. Despite these challenges, Whitney Houston's legacy as one of the greatest vocalists in music history remained undeniable. Tragically, she passed away at the age of 48 on February 11, 2012, just hours before she was to appear at a pre-Grammy Awards party, where she was expected to receive a lifetime achievement award. Her untimely death left the world in shock, and tributes from fans and fellow musicians poured in, further cementing her status as an iconic figure in both music and popular culture.

Read the following passage about green living and mark the letter A, B, C, or D on your answer sheet to indicate the best answer to each of the following questions from 31 to 40.

(1) Choosing a career may be one of the hardest jobs you ever have, and it must be done with care. View a career as an opportunity to do something you love, not simply as a way to earn a living. Investing the time and effort to thoroughly explore your options can mean the difference between finding a stimulating and rewarding career and move from job to unsatisfying job in an attempt to find the right one. Work influences virtually every aspect of your life, from your choice of friends to where you live. Here are just a few of the factors to consider.

(2) Deciding what matters most to you is essential to making the right decision. You may want to begin by assessing your likes, dislikes, strengths, and weaknesses. Think about the classes, hobbies, and surroundings that you find most appealing. Ask yourself questions, such as “Would you like to travel ? Do you want to work with children ? Are you more suited to solitary or cooperative work ?” There are no right or wrong answers ; only you know what is important to you. Determine which job features you require, which ones you would prefer, and which ones you cannot accept. Then rank them in order of importance to you.

(3) (I) The setting of the job is one factor to take into account. You may not want to sit at a desk all day. (II) If not, there are diversity occupation – building inspector, supervisor, real estate agent – that involve a great deal of time away from the office. Geographical location may be a concern, and employment in some fields is concentrated in certain regions. (III). On the other hand, many industries such as hospitality, law education, and retail sales are found in all regions of the country.(IV)

(4) If a high salary is important to you, do not judge a career by its starting wages. Many jobs, such as insurance sales, offers relatively low starting salaries; however, pay substantially increases along with your experience, additional training, promotions and commission.

(5) Don’t rule out any occupation without learning more about it. Some industries evoke positive or negative associations. The traveling life of a flight attendant appears glamorous, while that of a plumber does not. Remember that many jobs are not what they appear to be at first, and may have merits or demerits that are less obvious. Flight attendants must work long, grueling hours without sleeps, whereas plumbers can be as highly paid as some doctors. Another point to consider is that as you mature, you will likely develop new interests and skills that may point the way to new opportunities. The choice you make today need not be your final one.
