IV. Reading Comprehension 2 (1.25 điểm) Đọc đoạn văn và trả lời câu hỏi.

The traditional Vietnamese family is changing. In the past, "three generations under one roof" was the norm. Grandparents, parents, and children lived together in an extended family. They shared housework, meals, and stories. The elders passed down values and traditions to the younger ones. However, with urbanization, the nuclear family (parents and children only) has become more common. Young people move to cities for better jobs and education. They live in apartments and lead busy lives. Consequently, family meals are less frequent, and the connection between generations may become weaker. Despite these changes, family remains the most important part of Vietnamese culture. People still gather on special occasions like Tet to visit their ancestors and reunite with relatives. The love and respect for family members never change.

24: What is the best title for the passage?

- A. Vietnamese Food.
- B. Changes in Vietnamese Families.
- C. Life in the City.
- D. How to Celebrate Tet.

25: In the past, who lived together in a family?

- A. Only parents and children.
- B. Grandparents, parents, and children.
- C. Only friends.
- D. Neighbors.

26: The word "norm" is closest in meaning to _____.

- A. standard or common thing
- B. strange thing
- C. mistake
- D. law

27: Why do young people move to cities?

- A. To avoid family.
- B. For better jobs and education.
- C. Because they dislike the countryside.

D. To live alone.

28: Which statement is NOT true according to the passage?

A. Nuclear families are becoming more common.

B. People never visit their relatives anymore.

C. Family is still important in Vietnamese culture.

D. Family meals are less frequent now.
